

Judith C. King, 65, died on April 6 after a six-year bout with cancer. She was born in East St. Louis, Illinois on January 24, 1939, the daughter of Carrell and Hazel Turner. She received her B.S. in Chemistry from the University of Pittsburgh, and her PhD in spectroscopy from the University of North Texas. She worked for a time as an industrial chemist, and taught at Austin College and Ankara College in Turkey. She worked for twenty years at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in the Office of Measurement and Signature Intelligence, where she rose to the rank of GS-15. She concluded her career with work at Riverside Research Institute.